Latest on the War.

Brussels, Belgium, Aug. 4.—Following rumors today that Germany had officially declared war upon Belgium, the Kaiser's columns crossed the frontier in a dozen places. The large commercial city of Liege was shelled by a force of German artillery, supported by infantry. The Belgian troops repulsed the Germans.

The town of Vise, 3,000 inhabitants, was captured by the Germans and the city of Namur was raked by fire from German field guns.

London, Aug. 4.—A British mine laying ship has been sunk by a German fleet.

The British torpedo boat, destroyer Pathfinder was pursued by the fleet, but escaped.

Berlin, Aug. 4. Shortly after 7 o'clock this evening Sir William Edward Goschen, the British ambassador, went to the foreign office and announced that Great Britain had declared war on Germany. He then demanded his passports.

London, Aug. 4.—Great Britain declared war on Germany at 7 o'clock tonight.

The momentous decision of the British government, for which the world had been watching, came before the expiration of the time limit set by Great Britain in today's ultimatum to Germany demanding a satisfactory reply on the subject of Belgian neutrality.

Germany summarily rejected the request that Belgian neutrality should be respected.

The British ambassador at Berlin thereupon received his passports and the British government notified Germany that a state of war existed.

The foreign office has issued the following statement:

"Owing to the summary rejection by the German government of the request made by his Britannic majesty's government that the neutrality of Belgium should be respected, his majesty's ambassador at Berlin has received his passports and his majesty's government has declared that a state of war exists between Great Britain and Germany from 11 o'clock p. m. August 4."

Went Down Deep.

For several years A. B. Crider has been trying to get a well that will not go dry during the summer months, the average well being 30 to 40 feet deep. This last week, while drilling a new one, water was reached at the depth of 155 feet. Just before reaching the water, it was necessary to drill through a very hard shell like crust. As soon as the crust was broken, water gushed up with such force that it stood 80 feet in the well, bringing with it several pieces of wood. Mr. Crider says that it is impossible to lower the water and he believes he has a well at last that will furnish a sufficient amount. —Maitland Herald, July 30.

Real Estate.

The July real estate has certainly been in harmony with the month, mighty dry and dealers have certainly had but little to do for our record shows only a total of 96 instruments were filed—there being but 34 warranty deeds put on record as compared with a year ago the warranty deeds were about the same, but the trust deeds filed were much larger than a year ago. The warranty transactions for July 1914, amounted to $50,162 and the trust deeds filed, $64,750. While the releases amounted to $71,616. There were but three deals during the month that involved $5,000 or over. These were:

Wm. E. Bennett to Wm. W. Patterson, w 1 nw 36, pt e 1 ne 35, 61, 30.....$8,362

Strum Grubbs to J. E. Nauman, e 1 nw 27, 35, 36.....$10,000

Eliza H. Payne to M. R. Martin, n 1/2 nw 11, n 1/2 e 10, 60, 39.....$15,000

Some Accidents.

An accident occurred Sunday evening, July 26, in which Warren Gibson, son of E. A. Gibson and wife, received a dislocated ankle and severe bruises. As he was crossing a bridge while horseback riding the horse stumbled and fell, striking its head on the bridge with such force that it killed the animal, which was valued at $300. —Maitland Herald, July 30.

Friday, July 23, J. Rippey Vandeverter had the misfortune of dislocating his hip. With a team he was dragging some old trees off the lawn, when one snapped in two, one of which struck his hip, causing the dislocation. Dr. Paul was called and set the dislocation and Rippey, although not being able to walk, with very much speed, was able to be in town, Tuesday. —News-Jeffersonian, July 30.

Perry Colwell, son of Wm. Colwell and wife living northwest of Maitland, was thrown from his horse near the Geo. Conz farm, Sunday evening, July 26, on his way home from church. The horse was found about three o'clock the next morning by the boy's parents, who at once began search for him. When found he was lying by the roadside unconscious but no injuries were sustained. —Maitland Herald, July 30.

Thursday evening, July 23, the little daughters of Robert G. Mitchell were enjoying a horseback ride when they met Marguerite Young and invited her to participate in their sport. Had there been any more horse there would have been more children riding. Deciding they would be more comfortably seated on pillows, they proceeded to get the same. In a short time pillows and children were huddled on the ground. Marguerite was the only one hurt and it was thought that the elbow was only thrown out of place. Mrs. Young and children were leaving that night for Colorado, and in a letter home Mrs. Young states that an X Ray examination showed the bone to be broken. —News-Jeffersonian, July 30.

The Band Concert.

The Band Concert, in Oregon last Saturday afternoon, given by the New Point band, under the auspices of the Oregon Commercial club, was a decided success, and was greatly enjoyed by many of our citizens, besides many from the country, who came in to hear the excellent music discoursed by this splendid musical organization, under the efficient direction of Lum Patterson, the veteran band leader. There are 20 pieces in this organization, and they certainly looked fine in their spick, span new white suits. If we could only have a band concert every Saturday, or every other Saturday, during the season, we are sure they would be appreciated by all.

Making Good.

George Lease was in town yesterday, and we were truly glad to see the boy, having not seen him for a good long time, and do you know it is always a great pleasure to meet such people—they always have something to say that is always interesting. He is one of those young men that has ever been busy and find something to do all the time.

George has had a struggle all through his life, and has now reached a point, that ample returns are coming his way that shortly will make him an occupant on easy street. George, although the 13th has been hanging about him all his life, is making good just the same. He was born on a Friday, the 13th of the month, and his wife is the 13th child of the family. His birthday was September 13th, 1872, and is a son of the late Tobias Lease, who served in the Union army as a member of the 3rd Missouri Infantry.

When he got through with the district school he had a longing for the mercantile business, and entered the employ of the Ford-Lease company at Forest City, up to the time of the fire which destroyed this business house, which was on February 5, 1899. He then went back to the farm, for a few years, but returned to Forest City and entered the service of W. E. Richardson in the general merchandise business, and he then engaged in the lumber business, and then another change. He went to Fortescue, and bought the Fortescue Mercantile Company's general stock. This he conducted for two years, when he sold to the Lease Brothers and this spring he went back to farm life, he and his brother James buying a 30 acre tract near Fortescue.

He has 118 acres in corn, 80 in wheat, 25 in alfalfa. His wheat has been threshed and averaged 25 bushels. He has already made his second alfalfa cutting, with two more crops yet to cut. It has averaged a ton per acre at each cutting.

He is married, and has one of the dearest of helpmeets, his wife was Maria J. Wilson, and they were married June 6, 1894. They have three living children—two girls and a boy—the son Floyd was taking in the town with his papa, and we enjoyed a little chat with him and soon discovered he was an intelligent reader.

George is something of a "finer"—he belongs to the Christian church; a member of the old historic Masonic Lodge of Forest City, and is a 32d degree Mason. A member of the St. Joseph Consistory, and also Mola Shrine, of St. Joseph. So you see he evidently has drank freely of the Camel's milk, and had the soles of his feet well cooked in crossing the hot sands.

The old SENTINEL wishes for him and his peace and plenty all the days that the divine Master may mete out to them, and may they be many.

LISTEN! We have decided to continue taking trading checks.

M. E. Church Notes.

The Fourth and last quarterly meeting will be held next week Wednesday night at eight o'clock in the church. Let us hope that every official member will be present.

The Union Meeting will be held next Sunday morning in our church and the sermon will be preached by Bro. Clagett, of the Presbyterian church. It is hoped that we will have a large attendance at this service.

Bro. L. L. Moore arrived home safely from his vacation trip last Monday morning, and reports having had a fine outing. Mrs. Moore and Mary tarried in Seattle for a more extended visit.

The storm cloud of Europe, is of peculiar interest to the citizens of our town and community, owing to the fact that one of our families, Dr. Proud and wife and children, are over there in the midst of it all, and doubtless would return if they could.

The Union service last Sunday was only fairly well attended, owing to the Chautauqua being in full blast. However the meeting was helpful and interesting. The service will be held next Sunday in the M. E. Church. All are most cordially invited to attend.

I was greatly pleased last Sunday morning to see some of my young people from Arkoe, Mo., in the audience. I had been their pastor for four delightful years, and to see them again and have a short visit with them was a real treat indeed.

The little Ford run-a-bout, that carries this preacher around, made a record run the other day over Mr. Will Carroll's mail route. Mr. Carroll was anxious to return early that day that he might assist in the funeral of Mrs. Harsha, and prevailed on me to take him around his route. We left the postoffice exactly at ten o'clock, started around the route, killed the engine five times in stopping, stopped to water the car, traveled twenty six and seven eighth miles, and was back at the post office in Oregon in just an hour and forty minutes. Mr. Carroll said that he never had ridden so fast in his life. If any one can beat the record let him come forth with the facts. Our roads, too were among the worst in Missouri.

Mr. Crawford, of Cameron, was in town a day last week in the interest of Missouri Wesleyan college. It is time he was soliciting students for the coming year. He rode with the pastor about seventy miles and met many young people, and received many assurances that the school would be patronized when it opened this fall.

It was a pleasure to meet my old friend and fellow preacher, the Rev. Dr. F. W. Luce, D. D., of Cleveland, again, after an interim of a few months. Dr. Luce opened the Chautauqua program with his great lecture on "The Patriotism of Abraham Lincoln." He hastened on the next morning for Auburn, Neb., where he lectured on Sunday afternoon, he then goes to Iowa where he will give a series of lectures.

Mound City Beats Bigelow.

Sunday last, McKee's sluggers, of Mound City, under the leadership of Bart Ealy, defeated Bigelow at Jackson's field at Big Lake, by a score of 2-1. The game was a clean, well fought one from start to finish and resulted in a pitcher's battle between

Sherman for Bigelow and Haynie for Mound City. Both sides put up a great fielding game, and while Sherman was touched up for more hits than Haynie, he seemed to keep his hits more scattered and pitched himself out of holes several times when Mound City looked certain of scoring. Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
